KEEP YOUR KIDS SAFE

Release Number: (#22-141) Communicorp Inc., of Columbus, Georgia, is announcing the voluntary recall of about 600,000 6” Aflac Plush Promotional Ducks. This recall involves plush ducks that were distributed by Aflac to consumers as a promotional item. The six-inch plush Aflac promotional ducks include Accident Duck, Business Duck (only with no model number printed on the sewn in tag are included in this recall), Fishing Duck, Police Duck, PGA Duck, One Day Pay Duck, Heisman Duck and Lifeguard Duck.

Problem: Components of the recalled promotional ducks contain levels of certain phthalates that exceed the federal phthalate content standard. A component of the promotional fishing duck also contains a level of lead that exceeds the federal lead content standard. Phthalates and lead are toxic if ingested by young children and can cause adverse health issues.

What to do: Consumers should immediately stop using and dispose of the recalled plush promotional ducks. Communicorp is contacting Aflac employees and licensed agents who purchased these plush promotional ducks directly. Consumers can also contact Communicorp at 800-642-3522 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. ET Monday through Friday, or online at <https://communicorp.com/recall> or <https://communicorp.com> and click on Recalls at the bottom of the page for more information.

Release Number: (#22-142) Target Corporation, of Minneapolis, Minnesota, is announcing the voluntary recall of about 120,000 children’s pajama sets. This recall involves a children’s two-piece, long-sleeved top and pant pajama sets. The pajama set is the brand “Cat & Jack” in the “Unicorn Cozy” pattern. The pajama top is black with ivory unicorns and ivory stars with the words “Dream Away” printed in metallic gold lettering. The pajama bottoms are ivory with black unicorns and black stars. The pajama set is 100% polyester and was sold in children’s sizes XS, S, M, L and XL.

Problem: The children’s pajama sets fail to meet the federal flammability standards for children’s sleepwear, posing a risk of burn injuries to children.

What to do: Consumers should immediately take the recalled pajama sets away from children and return the pajama sets to any Target store location for a full refund. Consumers who purchased the pajama sets on Target.com can contact Target to receive a prepaid return label to return the pajama set for a full refund. The firm is contacting known purchasers directly regarding the recall. Consumers can also contact Target at 800-440-0680 from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. CT daily or online at www.target.com and click on “Recalls” at the bottom of the page, then on “Accessories/Apparel/Shoes” for more information. Consumers can also click the “Product Recalls” tab on Target’s Facebook page for more information.

Release Number: (#22-145) Joey Clothing Inc., of Moonachie, New Jersey, is announcing the voluntary recall of about 15,930 Children's robes. This recall involves Leveret branded children's robes. The robes are made of cotton and nylon, have an attached hood, cuffed wrists, two functional front pockets and a detachable belt. The robes were sold in children's sizes 12-18 months through size 14 and in the following colors: black, dark blue, green, gray, navy, pink, purple and white. The sewn-in neck label displays the brand Leveret, the robe's size, material content, washing instructions and "Made in China."

Problem: The children's robes fail to meet flammability standards for children's sleepwear, posing a risk of burn injuries to children.

What to do: Consumers should immediately take the recalled robes away from children, stop using them and contact Joey Clothing for a full refund. Consumers who purchased the robes from Amazon.com will be contacted through Amazon's messaging platform. Consumers who purchased the robes directly from Joey Clothing, Nordstrom Rack and Zulily will be contacted via email.

Consumers must cut the robes in half and send photo proof of the destroyed robes and sewn-in label to receive a $30 refund via email at productrecall@leveret.com. Joey Clothing will refund $35 to consumers who show a receipt of the full purchase price. Consumers without a receipt will be refunded $30.

Consumers can also contact Joey Clothing Inc. toll-free at 844-338-3738 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. ET, Monday through Friday email at productrecall@leveret.com or online at www.leveret.com/pages/robesproductrecall or www.leveret.com and click on "PRODUCT RECALL INFORMATION" at the top of the page for more information.

Release Number: (#22-146) Asweets Global Inc., City of Industry, California, is announcing the voluntary recall of about 13,300 Wonder & Wise Baby Activity Walkers. This recall involves four-wheeled Wonder & Wise baby activity walkers. The wooden push walkers have a panel of interactive toys and activities for babies. They are white with black and wood-colored accents, with a front panel with a shape sorting puzzle, bead activities and other wooden toys and a storage compartment. A roller containing five wooden balls is attached between the two front wheels. Only units with no batch number label, or units labeled with Batch No. 0521SCP01155 on the undercarriage of the walker are recalled.

Problem: Rubber rings on the rear wheels can separate from the wheels and detach from the Activity Walkers, posing a strangulation hazard to young children.

What to do: Consumers should immediately take the recalled walkers away from children, stop using them until repaired and contact Asweets for instructions on getting free replacement rear wheels. Consumers can also contact Asweets toll-free at 833-422-2028 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. PT Monday through Friday, email at info@asweets.com or online at www.wonderandwise.com/productrecalls/activitywalker or www.wonderandwise.com and click on "Product Recalls" for more information.

Release Number: (#22-156) The Manhattan Toy Company, of Minneapolis, Minnesota, is announcing the voluntary recall of about 2,700 Activity Loops. This recall involves the Manhattan Toy Company's Activity Loops with model number 215210 and lot codes EAN or FCN. The recall applies to these two lot codes only. The model number and lot code can be found printed on the bottom of the dome shaped base. The loops are green, orange, blue and red and have moving rings and sliding soccer ball shapes. The toy has a suction cup bottom that adheres to non-porous flat surfaces.

Problem: Tubes on the Activity Loops toys can detach from the base releasing small plastic rings, posing a small parts choking hazard to children.

What to do: Consumers should immediately stop using the Activity Loops toys, take the toys away from children and return them for a full refund either to the place of purchase or directly to Manhattan Toy. Manhattan Toy will supply a prepaid shipping label for returns directly to the company. Consumers can also contact The Manhattan Toy Company at 800-541-1345 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. CT Monday through Thursday and 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. CT Friday, email at help@manhattantoy.com or online at <https://www.manhattantoy.com/pages/recall-information> or www.manhattantoy.com and click on recall information at the bottom for more information.

Release Number: (#22-177) Kids Tales, of China, is announcing the voluntary recall of about 9,100 Children's Pajamas. This recall involves Kids Tales-branded children's 95% cotton and 5% elastane pajamas. They were sold in various print designs and colors, and individually or as a set of two. The single-piece, short-sleeved, footless pajamas were sold in five sizes 66 (3-6 Months), 73 (6-12 Months), 80 (12-18 Months), 90 (18-24 Months), and 100 (2-3T) and in various prints. "Kids Tales," "Made in China" and the size are printed on the pajama's neck label.

Problem: The children's pajamas fail to meet the flammability standards for children's sleepwear, posing a risk of burn injuries to children.

What to do: Consumers should immediately take the recalled sleepwear away from children and contact Kids Tales for a full refund. Consumers who purchased the pajamas will be asked to destroy the garments by cutting them in half and send the recalling firm a photo of the destroyed garment. Upon receipt of the photo, consumers will be issued a full refund of the purchase price. Consumers can also contact Kids Tales by email at fzskmyxgs@outlook.com, or online at http://www.fzskmyxgs.com/bk_25682537.html for more information.
